

Detailed information about seminar
Course name:	Social Aspects of Business Management
	Cycle of studies:	Study type:
	II cycle (master)	Full-time
Study Programme name:	Business Management
Specialisation:
Promotor:	Assoc. Prof. Ilona Świątek-Barylska
Seminar description:
The seminar is addressed to students who are interested in management from social sciences perspective. During the seminar we will work on social dynamics which exist in the workplace and analyze human behavior in organizations. Contemporary, individualistic attitude to employee in organization, indicating its individual freedom, influence the management methods and techniques. You will explore the conditions, mechanisms and consequences of chosen social aspects of management and managerial job. Thesis will cover various aspects of management, analyzed through the perspective of human capital. Because there are so many factors which can be analyzed, this area of investigation is extremely broad and only your imagination is the limit. The more interesting question you ask, the more you will learn and have more "fun" when writing your thesis. For students staying abroad under the Erasmus program, I arrange "distance writing".
Prerequisites		Enrolment limit:
The interest in the human being as an entity in the management process.		6–12
Course content:		Contact hours
Semester 2 2023/2024 Methods of searching and defining research problem. Ideas sharing on research problem definition. Tasks for summer holidays. Semester 3 2024/2025 <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The principles of individual scientific work, methodology and formal requirements of the master thesis. 2. Literature and other information sources. Literature review. Preparation of the list of references. 3. Definition of the goal and the structure of the thesis, selection of appropriate methods for the procession. 4. Formal requirements: tables, graphs, the form of quotation and listing literature and other sources. 5. Preparation and presentation of the first (theoretical) part of the thesis – discussion and feedback. Semester 4 2024/2025 <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 6. Preparation of the second (empirical) part of the thesis. Methods of the 		9 25

research, sample, possible problems. 7. Presentation of partial results of the thesis (first version), consulting of the remarks and comments. 8. Modification of the master thesis on the basis of consultations and remarks. Presentation of the final version of the thesis. 9. Preparation for the defense of the thesis.	25
Literature:
Lovitts, B. and Wert, E. (2009). Developing Quality Dissertations in the Social Sciences: A Graduate Student's Guide to Achieving Excellence. Sterling, VA: Stylus Publishing. Saunders, M., Lweis, P., Thornhill A., Research Methods for Business Students, Pearson 2009.
Assessment methods and criteria:
SEMESTER 3
Requirement type
List of references	20 %
Goal and structure of the thesis	20 %
First part (theoretical) of thesis	60 %
Total	100 %
GRADE
5	(90–100%)
4	(75–89%)
3	(60–74%)
2	(0–59%)
SEMESTER 4
Final version of the bachelor thesis submitted on time – 100%	